Transition from children to adult services	Alex Pirrie	Mar-22	May-23	The Care Inspectorate published the report on the Aberdeenshire joint inspection regarding children at risk of harm on 24th January 2023. The overall evaluation of the quality indicator inspection was very good. Whilst the inspection identified a few areas of improvement that partners were already aware of through self-evaluation, it did not highlight any new themes in relation to transitions that are not already being worked on through existing structures. Officers will therefore proceed to prepare a report for the IJB which updates on work on transition from children to adult services, with the aim of presenting this report to the IJB at its next meeting in May 2023.
